Navarra is the cradle of native varietal Garnacha and is the Spanish market leader or Rosé wines.

The wines – white, rosé and red – are recognized for their freshness and authenticity thanks to its unique location in Northern Spain and prides itself on sustainability and renewable energy initiatives.

Winemaking dates back to Roman times and the expansion of vineyards has taken place over centuries to provide wine for the multitude of churches along the Camino de Santiago (The Way of St. James).

Today, the vineyards can be found from the foothills of the Pyrenees Mountains to the Ebro River and Europe's largest desert Las Bardenas.

The region is comprised of 5 sub-zones with distinct terroirs influenced by three climates – Atlantic – Continental – Mediterranean – resulting in a range of wine styles.
